AZALEAS

The name is from the Greek word azaleos, meaning dry, because their discoverer believed them to grow in dry locations. However, because they are shallow rooted, they require an abundance of water.

There are three cardinal rules to remember when growing Azaleas:

1. Water frequently in dry weather.
2. Mulch heavily with oak leaves or peat moss to protect the roots and furnish humus.
3. Fertilize sparingly three times a year during the Spring and early Summer.

Azalea Kurume 10-12 in., B. & B.

There has been such an increase in both commercial and private Azalea plantings in the last few years that information as to the prevention and control of pests is eagerly sought. A complete brochure may be obtained by writing the Agricultural Experiment Station of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute for Circular 84. Or, if preferred, we shall be glad to furnish helpful information free of charge upon description of the symptoms of infected plants.

Visitors from all points of the United States come to our city each year to see the beauty of our Azalea Festival and to make pilgrimages to the finest Azalea and Camellia collection in the world. Famed Bellingrath Gardens. To nature lovers everywhere we extend a cordial invitation to enjoy their beauty this season.

The Indica variety, Pride of Mobile, is the outstanding feature in this section. Some plants are over 100 years old, measuring 20 feet in height and 40 feet in spread.

INDICA AZALEAS

Florists and nurserymen have an unusual opportunity to profit by planting some of the Indica Azaleas around their homes and business grounds, because few plant lovers can resist the lure to buy when they see them in bloom. We have selected and grown only the choicer varieties for the benefit of our customers, who can select with assurance from the following list.

Daphne Salmon—Salmon colored, medium sized flowers, blooming in mid-season. It is fast growing and always compact in habit.

Elegance—Light pink flowers, very early to bloom, growing upright and very hardy.

Fielders' White—Large pure white flowers, compact growing, early blooming and fairly hardy. Nice to use with other colors.

Formosa—Purple to pinkish tinted flowers, among the largest of all blooms in the Azalea family . . . Large, dark green leaves, and a rapid and bushy grower.

Indica Alba—The prettiest white flowered azalea and an upright grower which is very hardy.

Indica Rosea—White flowers with rose colored throat, making it a striking variety. Mid-season bloomer. Hardy and unusual.

Iveryana—Pink striped, white flowers, which bloom late, and long. Compact grower.

Lalanceana—Delicate shade of lilac and orchid. Its large flowers and strong vigorous growth making it popular.

Phoenicia—A dwarf grower with purplish pink flowers, which is desirable where a large plant is not wanted.

Pride of Mobile—Pink flowers, formerly called watermelon pink, of large size, which is the most popular Indica Azalea. Blooms in mid-season and a very profitable and satisfactory plant.

Vitata Fortuni—Lavender and white, sometimes pure white flowers on the same stem. Blooms early and continues a long time. Fast growing, hardy and upright.

William Bull—Dubonnet colored, double flowers of upright habit, fine for mass effects on large landscapes.

HARDY JAPANESE KURUME AZALEAS

Finest forcing Azaleas for Florists

Kurume Azaleas are a race developed in Kurume, Japan from farms of R. Obtusum. Most of them are hardy from Philadelphia southward and some do well as far as New York with Winter protection. We grow thousands each year to be used as Florists pot plants and nothing is more satisfactory for the purpose, because they are dwarf and compact, bloom when very small and force easily. When received from us keep at 60 degrees for bloom in 60 days or less, depending on the time brought in. Syringe frequently to keep down red spider.

4-6 in. Indica; 4-6 in. Kurume lining out; 6-8 in. 8-10 in. Kurumes shown with 3, 4 and 5 in. pots

Christmas Cheer—Red flowers, hose in hose type. Good compact grower with glossy green leaves.

Coral Bells—Florists' favorite, both because of its beautiful light pink color and bell shaped flowers. Easiest to force and a heavy and profuse bloomer.

Double Mauve—Lavender flowers with white throat. A really outstanding color, and one of the most compact of all making it well suited for pot plant purposes.

Flame—An early blooming plant with bright red flowers, literally covering the leaves. Hardy and upright.

Hinamoyo—Delicate pink color, blooming very heavy. Fast and upright grower and a pleasing variety.

Hinodegiri—Most popular of the evergreen Kurume Azaleas. Red blossoms cover the entire plant and it grows slowly and compact. Easy to force and fine for pot plant for florist.

Macrantha, Single—Clear pink and salmon flowers, blooming over a long period. Extremely hardy and compact and a dwarf grower. Making it nice for pot plant purposes.

Macrantha, double—Pink flowers, hose in hose type. Extremely hardy and blooms over a long period of time. Desirable for this reason.

Pink Pearl—Beautiful salmon pink flowers, blooming in large clusters. Very compact grower and good forcer.

Salmon Beauty—Large salmon flowers, hose in hose type with large glossy leaves. Heavy bloomer and compact grower.

Salmon Queen—Large sized salmon flowers, like above except they are single. Blooms cover entire plant.

Snow—Pure snow white large sized flowers. Hose in hose type. Universal favorite where white is needed.

Our azalea liners were planted in beds early in Summer to allow plenty of time and space for strong root development. Their root system equals three inch pot plant. Spring delivery is best for lining out size and we book orders upon receipt of one fourth deposit. Order early.

CAMELLIA JAPONICAS

Camellias with advanced flower buds, should be kept in a very cool temperature, not more than 50 degrees. They prefer a well drained soil, with a slight acid reaction. Cottonseed meal, with acid phosphate, is good. Also rotted cow manure, muriate of potash, tankage and sulphate of ammonia, all of which are acid in reaction. There are very few diseases attacking Camellias. Sometimes, however, the foliage is attacked by scale. When this occurs, spray with Volck, 1-50 and be sure to spray underside of the leaves. Their use as cut flowers is increasing steadily, and due to the heavy demand, we ask our customers placing large orders to do so early before they are sold out.

GROUP I CAMELLIAS

Alba Plena—This well known camellia is one of the best for cut flower purposes. Snow white color, full double, blooms early and flowers from 3 to 5 in. in diameter.
